"LP is honored to have been recognized by The Tennessean as a 2022 Top Workplace because this award was bestowed by our incredible Nashville-based employees," said LP Chair and Chief Executive Officer Brad Southern. "We are able to commemorate our 50th year in business thanks to the talent and dedication of our employees, who are continuously learning, growing and innovating. We're only as strong as the company we keep, and this recognition will encourage us to keep Building a Better World, both within and outside our walls."

This is LP Building Solutions' first recognition as a Top Workplace by The Tennessean. Honorees are determined by those who know organizations best—the people who work there. To select the 2022 honorees, The Tennessean invited 1,750 Middle Tennessee organizations to participate, with more than 20,000 employees in the region responding to the 24-question survey. The survey measured several aspects of workplace culture, including alignment, execution and connection. Energage's "15 Culture Drivers" have been proven to predict high performance against industry benchmarks.

In addition to earning regional honors, LP was entered into the nationwide competition, where the company was also honored as a 2022 Top Workplaces USA recipient.

"The employee experience needs to be on the mission-critical list," said Energage Chief Executive Officer Eric Rubino. "By giving employees a voice and showcasing an authentic culture, organizations can attract those job seekers who complement their culture. Culture drives performance."
